TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS.

Who Will Be Crowned the Most Popular Young Ladies In This Part of Kentucky

Just Eleven More Days To Answer This Momentous Question So If You Are Ambitious or This Highly Prized Honor And The Prizes That Go With It, You Must Make Every Moment Count. Be Up and Doing With Might And Main For We Are Nearing The Home Stretch And YOU Will Need Every Vote To Make You A Winner.

HUNDREDS OF SUBSCRIBERS

ARE Pouring Into The I. J. Office As The Many Friends Take Advantage Of The Best Offer Of The Contest Which Comes To A Close at Nine O'Clock Tonight.

"Who will be the winners of the Interior Journals Great Prize Popularity Contest, which comes to a close on June 29th?" Is the question almost everybody is now asking. The answer to this question will all depend on what efforts the contestants and their friends put forth during the next eleven days. The great race is growing more and more exciting every day and from all appearances the outcome will be in doubt up to the last minute for there are many strong candidates who are working with might and main for that $350 piano. Never in all his years of experience in this work, has the manager ever seen a contest where the indications point to such a close race at the finish. It certainly is going to be a highly prized honor to win that $350 piano for this is by long odds the greatest campaign ever attempted by a country newspaper in Kentucky.

Open Until 9 O'Clock Tonight.
The office will be open this evening so that the contestants and their friends may turn in the subscriptions to apply on the best offer of the contest which comes to a close at 9 o'clock tonight.

Will Your "Favorite" Win?
Friends, relatives and acquaintances, it is up to you. Are you going to let your favorite lose that $350 piano just for lack of a few subscriptions? But still she may lose by a few thousand votes which she might as well have had, if you had stood by her. Let every father, brother and sister, aunt and uncle friend and acquaintance put forth their most active efforts during the next two weeks in behalf of their favorite for what you do now will probably spell SUCCESS OR DEFEAT for your candidate. Drop everything if need be, to make your favorite a winner. Don't let anyone wrest the honor and glory away from her. Don't let your regrets possess you, when the judges have made their final decision but make sure that if your favorite loses, you at least have the satisfaction of knowing that you have done all that you possibly could do. A little help given your favorite now is worth all the consolations in the world have the contest is over.

About The Coupons.
No coupons will appear in the paper hereafter during the contest, all coupons clipped from the paper must be pulled before June 22nd, or they will not be counted. We do this to clear the boards for the judges when time comes for the final count. Note ballots issued on subscriptions are good at any time up to the close of the contest and need not be pulled until the last day if you do not wish to do so.

Pay Up Your Subscription.
After the contest is over, subscribers who are in arrears will be sent off the list. If you are in arrears, why not pay up your subscription and give some contestant the benefit of the votes? The I. J.'s subscription will be strictly cash in advance to all alike hereafter.

Praise For Wesley Embry

Reviewing the Home Times League, a writer in the Louisville Herald said Sunday: "The Frankfort team is one of heavy hitters and they are fast fielders as well, which would hold them up even with a mediocre pitching staff. Manager Gferrer seems to have a find in the youngest addition to his list of pitchers. Embry, the former high school lad, has won five straight games for the Lawmakers, and has never been hit hard."

Middleburg.

The formal opening of Golden Dawn Hotel Thursday June 6th, was a success in every particular. There were some 200 hundred people present and the scene presented something of a 14th of July picnic. The McKinney band was on hand as per arrangement and furnished the best of music, and was highly complimented. A good ball game was played by the Hustonville and Middleburg teams which resulted in the defeat of the Hustonvillians by a score of 4 to 3. Jason Lawhorn the proprietor of the Springs was quite unable to look after all of his guests as he wished, but Mr. G. W. Thomas, of Somerset, was there and assumed some that of the role of nine host, and made it pleasant for all present. Lincoln county sent down a good delegation. Among which were Mr. and Mrs. William Moser, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Singleton, Misses Ophelia Moley and Virgie Davidson. The Liberty people came up in automobiles buggies etc., to help swell the number. The best of order prevailed and all had a good time. Some persons took supper with Mr. Lawhorn and the day was profitable to him.

One of the little twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William North, of Mt. Salem, fell while at the Golden Dawn opening and broke her arm near the elbow. Dr. C. R. Creech was present and dressed the fracture and Mrs. North took her home. Jesse Heron and Dallas Reed are said to have done a land office business with their automobiles, bringing people to Golden Dawn on opening day. They made several round trips to Liberty, bringing a good load each trip.

Danville K. P. Officers.

At regular election of the Danville Knights of Pythias lodge last week, the following officers were chosen: M. J. Farris, Jr., C. C. Herman Mayes, V. C. W. C. VanPelt, H. J. Perry, M. W. T. H. Wright, M. F. W. S. Fitzgerald, M. E. J. C. Davis, K. R. S. George Gentry, A. G. T. Aldridge, J. G. Sharp Shaw, O. G.

CHILDREN'S DAY

At McKinney Christian Church Proves Very Enjoyable Affair.

McKinney, June 17.
One of the most successful and enjoyable occasions here in many a day was the Children's Day exercises at the Christian church on last Sunday night. The house could not hold the crowd and many had to stay on the outside on account of it. The program was very interesting, consisting of several drills and recitations and songs. The committees are to be congratulated on their good work in training the little ones. The drill by the small boys was extra fine also the little girls' songs. Mrs. E. O. Gooch and Miss Catherine Murphy rendered a very beautiful duet in their impressive way and all enjoyed the service very much. Mrs. D. S. Riffe has returned home from Chattanooga where she has been last week visiting her children.

Miss Elizabeth Hum is the attractive guest of Miss Isabelle Reynolds this week.

Mr. John Tanner and wife of Richland, Oregon, is on a visit here to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Tanner.

Edgar Leach, of Ludlow, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Z. P. Smith this week.

Mr. Mat Cohen, of Lexington, and Mrs. Richard Tusker Lowmes, Jr., of Danville, were callers at the barn of R. S. Scudder this week inspecting Mr. Scudder's fine string of youngsters he is grooming for the fall circuit this season. Mr. Scudder's reputation for breeding and handling high class show stock is second to but few men in the country.

Misses Mary Dee and Lena Beck entertained the Embroidery Club on last Thursday at their beautiful country home. A very delightful lunch was served and the colors pink and red showed up to a good effect as decorations and all enjoyed a delightful hour with the charming young hostess.

It is worse than useless to take any medicine internally for muscular or chronic rheumatism. All that is needed is a fine application of Chamberlain's Liniment for sale by Penny's Drug Store.

BOYLE COUNTY STRONG FOR HARVEY HELM

Congressional Candidates Meet In Joint Debate And Local Man Takes All The Laurels.

That Congressional Helm is first in the hearts of the democrats of Boyle county, as well as those of the big majority of other counties in the Eighth district, in the race for the nomination for congress, was demonstrated beyond all doubt, when he met his two opponents, Hon. Jere Sullivan, of Madison and Col. Jack Chinn, of Mercer, in joint debate at Danville Saturday afternoon. From beginning to end, it was apparent to the most biased observer that the big crowd was with Mr. Helm and the easy style in which he handled his opponents, made him still more friends, and convinced his admirers still more strongly that it was a great mistake to refuse him a renomination.

Mr. Sullivan spoke first. He opened his speech by saying that as he was a comparative stranger in Boyle county, he did not think it amiss to say something of himself. He told of his extreme poverty in boy and young manhood, of the hardships endured and the many sacrifices he was compelled to make in order to secure an education. He finally graduated and then took up the profession of law, in the practice of which he told his hearers he had been very successful. He laid much stress upon the good of the present school law, which he went to the legislature for the special purpose of passing; of his long and successful career in the conduct of the democratic party in Madison county, of the many honors unanimously bestowed upon him by his home people, of the effort made to get him to take charge of the campaign last fall, which, on account of poor health he declined. Mr. Sullivan said that it was at his suggestion that Hon. Rufus Van Sant, now chairman of the State Central Committee, was selected as chairman of the democratic campaign committee last fall. Mr. Sullivan spoke for an hour and closed his effort by claiming that it was through him that the direct primary act has become a law; that he drafted it, and he called upon Mr. Helm to show what he had done for his people. He was liberally applauded.

"My fellow Democrats" said Mr. Helm, when he arose to speak, "I am thankful that this is an audience to which I need no introduction, for almost within the sound of my voice, stands an humble home where I first saw the light of day." The pathos in his words touched a responsive chord in his audience and a round of applause followed. The speaker then launched into defense and account of his work in Congress and in answer to Mr. Sullivan's charge that he had done nothing but draw his salary, he pointed with pride to the handsome Federal building in Danville and asked by whose efforts it was erected. He charged that the salient effects of Mr. Sullivan's much boasted of school law was to make the citizens pay more taxes for the purpose of keeping up two normal schools, one of which is located at Richmond and giving negroes the right to vote in the white school trustee elections.

"No man is more heartily in favor of good schools and educational facilities than I am," said Mr. Helm, "but I do not want a normal school system pushed upon the people of a southern state." As chairman of the committee on War Department Expenditures, Congressman Helm told his hearers of his work and of the successful fight he had made in putting a stop to the millions of dollars yearly expended by appropriations, which had been secured by some Congressmen to establish army posts in their respective districts, nine-tenths of which the speaker said are and, were useless and simply the result of corrupt political "pull". He told of the effort to blot out the wasteful habit of discarding certain styles of shoes and clothing in the navy and army, before any of them were beginning to show wear, thereby necessitating the purchase of new materials and the millions of dollars lost by the government when the out-of-date materials are thrown away. Mr. Helm said he had given all of his energy and time to stop this leakage and in a great measure had succeeded.

He made numerous strong and well taken points and the audience cheered him to the echo. At times the speaker grew sarcastic, and spared neither of his opponents. His description of the meeting at Louisville in which Mr. Chinn and Mr. Sullivan participated was exceedingly amusing, but the climax was capped, when pointing at Mr. Sullivan the speaker dramatically exclaimed:

"And you claim to be the daddy of the primary law, when there you sat at Louisville in a dark lantern seance with half a dozen others, trying to name a candidate for Congress in the Eighth district. Does that look like he wants the people to have their choice?"

Round after round of applause swept the building and Congressman Helm then closed his effort with an eloquent appeal to be returned to his seat in the House of Representatives.

Col. Jack Chinn followed Mr. Helm in a 15 minutes talk, saying that so many laws are now being passed by congress that the people can not keep up with them and he thought it was best that the lawyers like Messrs. Sullivan and Helm be kept at home to interpret those laws to their people and send a farmer like himself to Congress to represent a few of them. He poked a little pleasantry at his opponents, but was not feeling in the best of health and made but little effort to hold the crowd, which showed a disposition to leave after Mr. Helm had finished.

The day, the crowd and the debate, dissolving it all into one, was a signal victory for Lincoln county's candidate, and so sure as August 3rd rolls around, Boyle county will hand in a handsome majority for Mr. Helm. Scores of leading citizens waited in the court house yard after the speaking, to shake his hand, congratulate him upon his timely effort and assure him of their support.

PHILLIPS HAS RIGHT TO BUILD PAVEMENTS

Where Contracts Were Given Him Before Conley Got City Work. Says Judge Hardin.

The concrete sidewalk controversy which has been waging more or less vigorously in Stanford since the contract for new pavements was let to Conley by the city council, reached a climax when the question of which contractor has a right to build certain pavements was carried into the Circuit Court last week through an injunction suit brought by the City Council against Phillips Bros., of this city. The city sought to enjoin Phillips from building certain pavements the contract for which had been let to the Conley firm, of Somerset. The contention of the city was that the property owners had been given ample time to have the work done by private contract, and that work had not started within the time allowed, and that after the contracts had been awarded and the work started by the city's contractor, it was too late for the private contractor to step in and claim the right to do the work.

On the other hand, it was shown by the testimony of several of the councilmen who were introduced as witnesses, that the council had not expected that the pavements would be laid within the time specified by the city fathers, but that the property owners would ask for further time for the work. Mr. James Phillips testified that he had made his bids for the city's work with the reservation of his private contracts, which he was now attempting to fill, when enjoined by the city.

SINGLETON—SINGLETON

Popular Young Couple Wed Near Pleasant Point.

Pleasant Point, June 17.
Mr. Urban Singleton and Miss Maude Singleton were united in wedlock's sacred bonds last Tuesday the 4th. Rev. Cannon officiating. The wedding was a quiet affair only a few intimate friends knowing it. The bride is the charming daughter of Rev. J. A. Singleton and is one of our most popular young ladies. The groom is one of Waynesburg's most enterprising young men being a son of Mr. H. H. Singleton, and is both handsome and popular. We extend hearty congratulations to the happy couple and wish them every happiness that married life can bring and may they live to celebrate their golden wedding.

Mrs. VanArsdale has returned to Danville having visited Mrs. T. Alford here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Dunlap are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine son.

G. D. McKee is able to be out again having had malaria.

Rev. J. A. Singleton preached to a large audience at Cook's Chapel Sunday night.

Miss Truett Wall has been the guest of Miss Ethel Hogue.

We have several land buyers in our vicinity at present.

Rev. J. A. Herald is contemplating selling his farm.

A number of our people will attend Children's Day exercises at Waynesburg next Sunday.

Mrs. Ruth Hastin, of Middletown, Ohio, is expected the last of the month to visit her mother, Mrs. W. C. Alford.

Samie Griffin, of West Virginia, is visiting relatives and friends here.

Notorious Murderer Paroled

Frank Hall, the notorious Bell county outlaw was paroled by the old Prison Commission just before it went out of office. The new board will take the matter into the courts, in an effort to have the parole declared void. He was serving a life sentence for the murder of a barber at Middleburg. A voluminous protest against his pardon or parole, signed by several thousand members of the order of Odd Fellows in Kentucky, was filed with the Prison Commission more than a year ago. The parole of Hall is credited to State Senator Joe F. Hosworth, of Bell county.

Ballast Inspector Killed

Samuel Allen, ballast inspector for the Louisville & Nashville railroad at Mullins Station, was struck on the head by a falling stone in the quarry at that point Saturday, and so badly injured that he died at noon at his home, Brush Creek, where he was taken after the accident. The stone, a small one, fell from a ledge 100 feet high.

Wets Win In Lebanon Contest

The Contest Board of Marion county, composed of County Judge J. A. Smith and Magistrates Geo. Mattingly and W. A. Fowler last week gave out a decision in favor of the "wets" in the contest case of Lebanon May 2, and which was won by the "wets" by a majority of forty-four. The hour was in session three days and examined a large number of witnesses. Attorneys for the "drys" will at once appeal to the Circuit Court, and say if necessary will take the case to the Court of Appeals.

PHILLIPS HAS RIGHT TO BUILD PAVEMENTS

Where Contracts Were Given Him Before Conley Got City Work. Says Judge Hardin.

The concrete sidewalk controversy which has been waging more or less vigorously in Stanford since the contract for new pavements was let to Conley by the city council, reached a climax when the question of which contractor has a right to build certain pavements was carried into the Circuit Court last week through an injunction suit brought by the City Council against Phillips Bros., of this city. The city sought to enjoin Phillips from building certain pavements the contract for which had been let to the Conley firm, of Somerset. Mr. James Phillips testified that he had made his bids for the city's work with the reservation of his private contracts, which he was now attempting to fill, when enjoined by the city.

Judge Hardin held that the property owners had the right, under the circumstances to have Phillips Bros., carry out the contracts which had been made before the city's contract.

An injunction suit against the city to prevent the cutting down of a number of trees along the sidewalks, will be tried before Judge Hardin at Lancaster Saturday.

Chappell's Gap

The farmers are all through planting corn.

Miss Annie Brinish was the guest of Miss Martha Anderson Sunday.

Miss Mamie Pike spent Sunday with Miss Tillie Chapell.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Green were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Dishon Sunday.

Miss Annie Brinish is home from Cincinnati to spend several days with her parents.

Miss Emma Pike will be home next week, we all will be glad to see her.

General News Notes

The Logan County News had the Russellville Democrat have consolidated and appear as the News-Democrat, with A. G. Rhea as editor.

"King" McNamara, who killed a man named Keller at Lexington a dozen years ago, was captured in Louisville under an assumed name last week and is now in jail in Lexington. A woman discovered his identity and "turned him up."

A Lexington policeman shot Sheriff Scott, of Fayette as a result of an old election quarrel. The wounds were not serious. A woman who was between them had a narrow escape.

R. P. and Harold Phil Farnsworth, who have the contract for erecting the Government building in Somerset, have begun clearing the lot preparatory to breaking dirt. The building will cost nearly $60,000.

Ward Headley, one of the most prominent lawyers and democrats of western Kentucky, died at Louisville Saturday after a lengthy illness.

The State of Casey.

Mrs. Lincoln Wells was called to Hustonville last Thursday to see her new grandson, George Edmond who arrived the day before to bless the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Powell.

Bell, James and George, twins of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carson, Ruth and Ralph, twins of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cudiff.—Liberty News.

GREAT FIGHT ON AT CHICAGO TODAY.

Roosevelt Claiming Nomination By 42 Majority—G. O. P. Split Beyond Repair.

Tuesday morning on the eve of the convention, reports were rife that a big block of the southern delegation, instructed for Taft, would bolt their instructions and vote for Roosevelt. Senator Dixon, Roosevelt's campaign manager claimed that Roosevelt would be nominated with 42 majority.

The test was expected to come right off the reel at the opening of the convention at noon, when Chairman Roosevelt, of the national committee, who calls the convention to order, would be asked to throw out the temporary roll of delegates as prepared by the national committee, and substitute a roll prepared by Roosevelt and his friends.

Editor Sam Roberts, of the Lexington Leader, who is on the ground, and who has led the fight for Taft in central Kentucky, writes to his paper, that it does not seem the republicans can win in November, no matter who is nominated, so badly split are the members of the party at Chicago.

The arrival of Roosevelt in Chicago to lend his followers and the handing over of Texas, Virginia and the state of Washington to Taft by the National committee, constituted the leading events at Chicago on Saturday. Previously the committee had taken one of Roosevelt's delegates in the 11th district of Kentucky, and given it to Taft, and two in California. Plain stealing and treason were charged against the Taft machine by Roosevelt's friends and the scenes were the most exciting ever witnessed at a national convention in a quarter of a century.

Judge Bethurum To Fight

Judge B. J. Bethurum, of Somerset, who was unseated at a delegate from the Eleventh district to the Republican National Convention, is in Chicago and will carry his fight to the floor of the convention. He wired Senator Dixon he would not allow the people who elected him to be robbed without a protest on his part. Judge Bethurum was one of the first to advocate the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt in the Eleventh district. He was joined in Louisville by his brother, Judge L. W. Bethurum, of Mt. Vernon, who is a strong Taft man and a delegate from the Eighth district.

Boyle County Democrats Have Been Highly Honored With Office

It seems the Danville Advocate would not know a merry jest if it met one in the middle of the road. The Interior Journal's suggestion that the material in Boyle for further political preferment is sadly lacking, was intended as a joke of the purest ray serene, and we supposed any one save a "solid ivory top" would recognize it. Hereafter when ever we attempt to perpetrate any such, we will furnish a card index and diagram of some for the benefit of our beloved brothers of the Advocate.

Seriously, there are no finer democrats anywhere than those of our neighbor county, and the fact that a number of the leading members of the party there have received such high honors at its hands is a cause of gratulation to us and to their host of friends in Lincoln. In two prominent instances the democrats of Lincoln played a humble part in bestowing the honors referred to. In the Eighth District convention in Louisville, Hon. Robert G. Evans, was chosen as one of the two delegates to the national convention, while Hon. Robert Harding was named elector for the state at large, in both of which cases the Lincoln county democrats voted solidly and enthusiastically for the Boyle candidates.

Then again, when Senator Ollie M. James looked over the state for a sterling young democrat to become his private secretary, he chose one of the editors of the Advocate, Hon. W. V. Richardson. When Governor McCreary sought a competent and loyal democrat for his private secretaryship, he selected, Hon. Francis B. Douglas. Then after serving with great credit as State Election Commissioner for years, Hon. Charles R. McDowell was appointed attorney to the new Insurance Board after declining the position of First Assistant Attorney General, and there are other positions of importance and honor with handsome salaries attached which have been and are being filled by leading democrats of Boyle.

The democrats of our sister county have been properly and rightfully honored, and so close are the ties that bind us, that we rejoice in their preferment, and have in all of these instances given our hearty endorsement to the appointments. Any argument that Lincoln democrats are being honored with office more than those of Boyle is totally without foundation, when the facts are considered.

The most delightful summer meeting of the Kentucky Press Association it has ever been the pleasure of the I. J. editor to attend, was held last week at Olympian Springs. No more entrancing spot to spend a summer vacation could be imagined. Everything possible was done to make the editors enjoy their visit, which they did to the utmost. E. D. Shimick, of the Shelby Record was elected president of the Association, John S. Lawrence, of the Cadiz Record, vice president, and J. R. Lennon, of the Mayfield Messenger chairman of the executive committee. J. C. Alecock, of the Jeffersonian, was re-elected secretary. The prize for the best weekly newspaper in the state was won by the Big Sandy News, of Louisa, Lawrence county. The prize for the best semi-weekly newspaper in the state was won by the Interior Journal.

The Advocate says in its account of the congressional speaking there Saturday "A large crowd of Stanford supporters came with him (Helm) and were stationed at different points in the house and proceeded to 'tear down the building' every time their candidate made a point. It is rumored that several of Helm's Boyle county supporters were requested to join in the 'rough house' tactics. The scheme was a petty political trick at the worst and fooled a lot of people." Then again it says that remarks of Congressman Helm were greeted by "shouting, yelling and stamping of the organized rooters from Stanford."

It's really amusing how the Advocate thus seeks to discredit the spontaneous enthusiasm which Congressman Helm awakened in his large following in Boyle, by claiming that it was caused by "organized rooters from Stanford." All told there were not a dozen men from Stanford in the audience. The "organized rooters" were Prof. J. W. Ireland, Attorney J. N. Snuders, Attorney T. J. Hill, Jr., Rowan Snuffley, who was there as a representative of the I. J. and there may have been one or two others. The "rooting" came from Helm's enthusiastic and loyal friends in Boyle, who saw how completely he outclassed his opponents in every way, and who will again be found "rooting" for him, by a large and enthusiastic majority on August 3rd, notwithstanding the efforts to trade them off for a Resident Secretary.

Reports from Lawrenceburg Monday were to the effect that Congressman Helm received the same enthusiastic reception there that he did in Boyle. Both of his opponents spoke against him, but he had everything his way. A leading democrat of Anderson telephoned to Stanford that the crowd was 10 to 1 for Helm and that Anderson's vote would be found recorded in the same proportion on primary day.

The Danville Advocate says that "It is generally understood that Congressman Helm is a hot anti-administration man." Which is wholly a misrepresentation. On the other hand we have it from reliable Boyle county democrats that the only opposition to instructing the Boyle county delegation to the state convention to vote for Governor McCreary for chairman of the state convention, came from the editors of the Advocate, who wanted a James delegation. What right has that paper to question the standing of any man in such a connection? Congressman Helm was at the head of the Lincoln county delegation, which was unanimously instructed in the county convention for McCreary for chairman, and Congressman Helm himself cast the vote of the county for McCreary for chairman and for John C. C. Mayo for National Committeemen, the only issues upon which the question of administration or anti-administration was brought out. And in both of these cases, the Advocate was against McCreary and his friends.

Of course a Resident Secretary should carry his home county for the candidate who hands him the nice fat job, that, undoubtedly, is to be expected, whether or not it is the quid pro quo, implied or expressed in so many words or contract. However, the Advocate was unable to carry Boyle county for James against McCreary, notwithstanding the fact that one of its editors is James' Secretary. Now let's see if the other can turn the trick for Sullivan against Helm in Boyle. Mac ought by all means to deliver the goods, especially as he has the appointment in advance. We have a suspicion, however, that the unpurchasable democrats of Boyle are going to have something to say about the matter themselves. Boyle is a Helm county overwhelmingly, and we do not believe it can be traded off in any such style, as seems proposed.

W. O. McIntyre, one of the editors of the Danville Advocate, announces that Judge Sullivan has appointed him "Resident Secretary" in the event he is elected to Congress. Who really believes that the good democrats of Boyle are going to be taken in by any such deal? They are for Harvey Helm overwhelmingly, and we do not believe that they are going to permit any man to trade them off in such fashion as is being attempted.

If Owen McIntyre is to be Resident Secretary for Judge Sullivan in Boyle county, why shouldn't Green Clay Walker get the job for Garrard? Then too, there three deserving pencil pushers in Jessamine three in Shelby, one in Adair, one in Spencer, all not in the home county of any candidate, who should be taken care of by Judge Sullivan, if he's going to play the game for all its worth, along this line. We vigorously object to any discrimination among our deserving newspaper friends.

Judge Sullivan's Resident Secretary in Boyle, W. O. McIntyre says in his announcement that he has never scratched a ticket. We would like to humbly inquire whether like Judge Sullivan he refused to vote for Brynn for president in 1896?

BEAUTIFUL NUPTIALS

Solemnized in Boyle When Miss Metcalf Weds Mr. Rodda.

(Danville Messenger.)

A beautiful wedding was that of Miss Frances Metcalf and Mr. Edmunds Alger Rodda, of Lancaster, Pa., which occurred at the home of the bride Wednesday afternoon. The palatial country residence, which is one of the handsomest in Boyle county, was most appropriately and artistically decorated for the occasion. The large hall, sitting rooms and parlor were gracefully decorated with daisies and smilax and tall vases filled with white lilies and sweet peas ornamented the tables and mantels. In the arched way was the altar, a perfect beauty of daisies and smilax entwined about, with a daisy wedding bell swinging from the center. Two little ribbon bearers, Messrs. Homer and Thomas Metcalf, daintily frocked in white, stretched wide white ribbons from improvised columns through the long hall and sitting room, through which the bridal party marched.

Misses Josephine Sandidge and Martha Hommel led the way and were followed by the groom and Mr. Charles Metcalf. The matron of honor, Mrs. Metcalf, entered alone; then came the bride on the arm of her father, Mr. Thomas Metcalf. Rev. J. P. Strother, of the Methodist church, said a beautiful and impressive ceremony.

The wedding march was played by Miss Em Smith, violin, and Miss Alice Metcalf, piano. Grella's Band, of Lexington rendered delightful music during the afternoon. The bridesmaids were gowned in pink satin with white lace over-dress and carried bouquets of pink sweet peas. The matron of honor looked handsome in a white satin with silver trimmings and carried white lilies. The bride was never more attractive. Her exquisite wedding gown was of white satin elaborately trim-

HON. JERE A. SULLIVAN

Brief Sketch of the Candidate for Madison for the Democratic Nomination for Congress. His Record is Worthy of Emulation

Hon. Jere A. Sullivan, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district, is a man of large business and political experience and is thoroughly equipped to occupy the responsible position which he seeks.

He was born near Richmond during the Civil War. While the subject of this sketch was very young, his father died leaving a widow and seven children in poverty. The mother inspired the children early in life with a desire for a good education and all of them responded and used every honorable effort to secure the same. Judge Sullivan was educated in the common and private schools of Richmond until he entered the Freshman class of Central University from which institution he graduated with the highest honors of his class. During vacation he usually worked as a hand on the adjoining farms in order to secure funds with which to purchase books and other necessities. Shortly after his graduation he served as deputy county clerk and deputy circuit clerk of Madison county and at the same time read law under the late T. J. Scott, who subsequently became circuit judge and was one of the ablest lawyers and judges in the State. Judge Sullivan completed his education in the University of Virginia where he studied law. After being admitted to the bar, he formed a partnership with Hon. H. B. Herd, who shortly thereafter located in Fort Worth, Texas, where he has made a great success as a lawyer and business man.

In 1885 Judge Sullivan was nominated and elected county attorney of Madison county without opposition. Again in 1890 he was re-elected without opposition from either party. Toward the end of the last term, he announced that he would not be a candidate for a third term on account of the growth of his practice which required all of his time. His record as county attorney was progressive in every particular. He helped in the movement to extend turnpikes, build bridges and improve the county along all lines. Although often requested to become a candidate, Judge Sullivan declined to make another race until 1907, when he became a candidate for representative of Madison county in the so-called election of hundreds of his fellow democrats. He was again nominated and elected without opposition.

He went to the legislature not to play politics but to frame, introduce and have enacted measures that would improve and advance the State. He introduced a bill requiring the inspection of State banks on a similar basis with national banks, but the measure failed to pass until taken up by the last legislature. Although not a member of the 1912 legislature, he drew the bill which was adopted. Under this law, a depositor feels that the State bank is as secure as a national bank. Judge Sullivan, after examining the school census of 1900, which showed a remarkable degree of illiteracy in Kentucky, set to work to improve the educational system of the State, or rather readjust matters so that the people would get advantage of the immense volume of money that is being expended annually for the cause of public education. With others, he helped establish two normal schools, and by his efforts the right schools were founded and even Judge Sullivan's strong opponents, who have seen the results, must admit that his ideas were correct and that his work will eventually take Kentucky out of the illiterate column. Kentucky was almost the last State in the United States to establish a normal school. Practically from the time he was admitted to the bar Judge Sullivan has been recognized as one of the ablest and most successful lawyers and has been counsel on either one side or the other of every important suit at the Madison bar. His practice has extended to many other counties and into the Federal Court. He has at all times been recognized as a progressive citizen, possessing sound, conservative judgment and is one of the most successful business men in Kentucky.

By his own industry starting in poverty, he has amassed a splendid estate and upon the removal of J. Stone Walker, from Richmond, Mr. Sullivan was chosen president of the State Bank and Trust Company, the largest financial institution in Madison county. Shortly after his admission to the bar, Judge Sullivan became secretary to Gov. McCreary during his race for Congress. Later upon the election of Grover Cleveland he was tendered the position of first deputy under Collector Bronston, but declined as he preferred to continue his law work. He has been elected chairman of the Democratic county committee of Madison county repeatedly without opposition and likewise a member of the Democratic State Executive Committee. He has also served as a member of various State campaign committees. He drafted the Democratic platform which was adopted at the convention in Louisville and upon which

Gov. James B. McCreary and his splendid ticket won such a crowning victory last November. Then, after Gov. McCreary had eluded an 18,000 defeat to a 31,000 majority, Mr. Sullivan was asked by the new Governor to prepare measures in which to carry out the platform pledges. This he did, spending several months in the patriotic work. Practically all of the pledges were enacted into law by one of the best legislatures Kentucky has ever had. His great service to the party netted hundreds of his admirers in the Eighth Congressional district to call upon him to enter the race for Congress, realizing that he would be a great force at the national capital and would in the language of Jack Johnson, "bring home the bacon."
